KEEPING ILLEGAL ACTIVITY OUT OF RENTAL PROPERTY

A PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR LANDLORDS AND PROPERTY MANAGERS

Limited Consent to Use and Reproduce Landlord Training Program Materials

The intent of this agreement to grant licensees sufficiently broad rights to make reasonable use of the materials described here for local training needs while restricting the distribution of unapproved or inappropriately adapted materials. Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc. (CDRI) is committed to making reasonable attempts to ensure that licensees may use these materials for legitimate local purposes. Therefore, licensees who believe they have a desired use that falls outside those permitted by this agreement are encouraged to contact CDRI to discuss the issue and receive prompt consideration of such requests.

Subject to the terms of this agreement, including the Conditions of Use shown on the reverse side, _____ (hereinafter: "licensee," "you" or "your") is granted limited permission to use and reproduce, without charge, the Landlord Training Program materials indicated below (the "materials")<sup>1</sup>:

- National Landlord Training Program Manual, 4th Edition, © 1993-2004 CDRI; and
- CDRI-Approved Derivative Works (if any): The Landlord Training Program Manual has been published in adapted form by local agencies in various states. Some of those "derivative works" are approved by CDRI for further within-the-same-state adaptation, conditional on compliance with the terms of this agreement. Subject to your compliance with the terms of this agreement, and to your also obtaining the consent of the publisher of the CDRI-approved derivative work, you are granted limited permission to use and reproduce the following approved adapted Manual(s): _____

The Landlord Training Program "PowerPoint" participant slides, © 1993-2006, are part of the materials included with any of the above manuals. Any unauthorized use of the materials is strictly prohibited, as is any violation of the Conditions of Use which are shown on the reverse and included by reference into this agreement.

<sup>1</sup> The Landlord Training Program materials have been created by John Campbell or Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc. (CDRI). The copyright to the materials is owned by Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc., with the City of Portland sharing ownership rights of some portions of the material developed between 1989 and 1992. CDRI has been authorized by the City of Portland to manage all licensing requests for those portions of the materials in which the City of Portland has a copyright interest.

Conditions of Use

1) Subject to your complying with all terms of this agreement, the version(s) of the Landlord Training Program materials shown on the reverse side of this form may be used as is or modified and adapted to address the laws and circumstances of your jurisdiction.

2) General conditions for reproduction and distribution:

a) You may not adapt, distribute, reproduce or otherwise use any version or adaptation of the National Landlord Training Program Manual other than those indicated on the reverse side of this page. Other versions, prior editions and previous adaptations of the manual may not be used in any manner absent special permission.

b) The materials may be reproduced for the licensee's use only. You may provide a sample copy of the materials to other persons or agencies, but you may not give any other person or agency permission to reproduce any of the materials.

c) Any version or adaptation of the Landlord Training Program Manual (other than the National Landlord Training Program Manual, 4th Edition) indicated on the reverse may be used and distributed only within the same state as originally published by the publishing agency, absent special permission.

d) You may not provide the materials in any electronic format (e.g., without limitation: computer disk, transmission by modem, website, Internet bulletin board, etc.) to any person outside your agency, absent special permission from CDRI. (See point 6 below for information about "PDF" posting.)

e) The materials may be sold for your direct cost of printing and distribution, but may not be sold for a profit.

3) Verbatim reproduction. Exact verbatim reproductions of the materials indicated on the reverse side, bound in its entirety and separately from any other materials, may be made without need to comply with Item 4 of these conditions.

4) If you choose to adapt, edit, excerpt, or otherwise modify the manual, including modification of the text or preparation of supplemental materials to be bound with the manual, you agree:

a) To provide Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc. with a statement by your attorney that he or she has reviewed these Conditions of Use with you.

b) To employ due diligence and care in adapting the manual, including ensuring that, prior to any distribution, the adapted manual is reviewed by an attorney knowledgeable in landlord-tenant law in your jurisdiction.

c) To provide Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc., prior to any distribution, a copy of any adapted or supplemented version of the manual.

d) To place the following statement, in plainly readable type, on the cover of any adapted manual:

e) To place on the first or second page of an adapted manual the following statement, verbatim and without modification, except for the insertion of the name of the licensee and the identification of the version of the manual for which consent to use has been given, in type of not less than 10 point or the type size used in the regular text of the document, whichever is larger:

Portions of this document have been reprinted and adapted with permission from the (version of Manual for which consent to use has been given), © (copyright date), Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc. (CDRI). Selection of reprinted materials, editorial decisions, and added text have been made by (licensee). These materials are copyrighted and may not be duplicated or modified without the permission of CDRI. (Licensee) certifies that it is in compliance with the copyright Conditions of Use of the Landlord Training Program materials.

The Landlord Training Program was originally developed by CDRI (2627 Northeast 33rd Avenue, Portland, Oregon 97212; Phone: 503-221-2005; www.cdri.com) in partnership with the City of Portland, Oregon, Bureau of Police and the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. Points of view or opinions contained within are those of (licensee) or Campbell DeLong Resources, Inc., and do not necessarily represent the official position or policies of the U.S. Department of Justice.

5) Brief excerpts of the materials (1,000 words or fewer) may be printed by licensee in periodicals or brochures intended primarily for local area or within state distribution, without the need to reprint the information identified in sections 4d and 4e of these conditions, provided that the following words are plainly stated in association with such excerpts: "Portions of this article [or brochure] have been reprinted with permission from the original Landlord Training Program."

6) "PDF" posting. Your adapted manual may be posted on your agency's website in a secure, non-editable electronic format, such as an Adobe Acrobat "PDF" file, only after approval of document security settings by CDRI and placement of an access-page link to license information on CDRI's site. (Contact CDRI for details.)

7) Accuracy of modifications. CDRI assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of your modifications to the Landlord Training Program materials or for the accuracy of any modifications made by other agencies who have developed manuals approved by CDRI for further within-the-same-state adaptation.

8) Consent to reproduce the materials may be withdrawn by written notice at any time if the licensee has failed to comply with these Conditions of Use.
